

SPIDERROCK EXS, LLC

SEC RULE 606 REPORT ON ROUTING OF INSTITUTIONAL CUSTOMER ORDERS

Q3 2019

SpiderRock EXS, LLC publishes this report pursuant to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 606 which requires all U.S. brokerage firms to make publicly available quarterly reports on their order routing practices. SpiderRock EXS provides this information for any order a customer has not specifically instructed to be routed to a particular venue of execution. SpiderRock EXS has selected the venue of execution on the customer’s behalf with “customer” being defined as any orders that are not for the account of a U.S. broker-dealer.

The report is divided into two tables: one for U.S. equity option derivatives and another for U.S. equities. For each section, the tables list venues in alphabetical order and the order routing statistic for each type of order. Note: we show zero values for orders which SpiderRock EXS did not route on an agency basis. The report will also note aspects of the relationship with the venue, if any.
